

JUST LIKE SPRING

This is just like spring—a reminder that the season for the tourist and pleasure seeker is at hand. It should be a still further reminder that Portsmouth has attractions that no other places on this continent possess. It has those wonderful natural beauties—diversified and satisfying—that has appealed to the world since the dawn of man. No matter what your lot in life may be, there is an hour when rest and recreation are necessary. The fagged and tired mind and body require a change. No matter in what direction that desire may lead, Portsmouth has the seashore, mountains, lakes and rivers to afford the heavenly idle time in dreaming of the days when America was forming, and dream those dreams where the great drama was enacted?

ORDER HEARING ON CLOSING P. D. & Y.

Federal Court at Portland Has Set March 15 As Date to Show Cause Why Road Should Not Be Discontinued

Unless something is done quickly, it looks as though the last chapter of the story of the P. D. & Y. will soon be written and the road go into history. In spite of the vigorous fight Receiver Meloon has waged to keep the lines open and prevent a complete shut-down, which would inconvenience hundreds of daily travellers, the court has signified its readiness to end the legal standing of the road and wipe the whole matter off the books.

The order for a hearing, set for March 16, to show cause why the road should continue in operation, was made a few days ago by Judge Peters and is now being published. The court apparently sees no encouragement in the present reorganization plan, unless something tangible is offered. With the opening of the new bridge and its competition, unless the line can be extended across the prospect for the road is very discouraging.

It has been recognized from the very beginning that the plan to operate the road only as far as Newmarket street in Kittery after the bridge was opened offered no encouragement. A great deal of patronage would be lost. As a matter of fact, it would be useless to attempt to continue operation after the travel over the bridge had once started.

It was for the purpose of making this extension to the public square in this city that the present reorganization plan was originated. It is the hub upon which the whole plan turned. Experts have estimated that it would mean an added revenue to the road of at least $10,000 per year, and reduce expenses, the ferry expenses, by about $30,000 annually. This means a difference between loss and profit to the company operating the line.

The order for hearing on the matter of closing came as a shock to many. They had thought some unseen or providential means would come to keep the road going. But all these prospects have failed. If Portsmouth and the other communities want the road to continue, they will have to do something for themselves. Attempts have been made to forestall this order by added effort on the part of the communities in the pledge of bonds under the reorganization plan, but courts will not be fooled with.

However, the communities have two weeks in which to show whether they want the road or not. The chances are, that, if sufficient representation is made to the court, of the positive success of the reorganization, the closing action can be delayed.

Already nearly $100,000 has been subscribed. The mark is nearly reached. A little more effort and a little more public spirit will save these communities from the inconvenience of having to employ other means of transportation. Jitneys may be used in the summer, but it is during the winter when transportation is most needed and then jitneys are out of the question.

THREE KILLED BY SPEEDING AUTO

Prominent Philadelphia Man Arrested When Found With Blood Spattered Machine

(By Associated Press)
Philadelphia, March 2.—Two women and a man were killed today when an automobile traveling at a high rate of speed crashed into them as they were alighting from a trolley car in West Philadelphia.

The driver did not slacken speed but rushed away as his victims were hurled fifty feet from the spot they were struck.

Twenty minutes later Henry Brack, broker, clubman and member of a widely known Philadelphia family, was found four blocks from the scene of the killing, standing beside a blood-spattered motor car wrecked against a telephone pole. He was arrested on a charge of reckless driving. A fur neck-piece worn by one of the women, was found wedged in the mudguard. The dead are Mrs. Ellen O'Donnell, Leo O'Donnell, her son, and Miss Mary Murphy. Brack, who admitted that he drank some ale, denied knowledge of the accident.

SEEKING CAUSE OF NAVY DISASTER

Unable to Determine Cause of Explosion on Destroyer Hulbert

(By Associated Press)
Manila, March 2.—It was just after the destroyer Hulbert took the Asiatic fleet speed trophy by making 35 knots an hour yesterday that six enlisted men were killed by the explosion in the boiler room.

An investigating board has been attempting to determine the cause. Naval authorities had been unable today to determine the exact cause of the explosion.

Two theories were advanced, the first that when a fireman going on duty attempted to open the fuel valve of a faulty burner the oil instead of flowing into the fire box spurted against the boiler head spraying the room and setting fire to the paint.

The other possible explanation is that there was a flareback of burning oil which ignited the paint, forming a gas that suffocated the sailors.

THEATRE SALE DEEDS PLACED ON RECORD TODAY

The sale of the Colonial and Olympia Theatres with the Colonial Market building to Mashie Berenson of Boston took place today. The property on Columbus Ave. taken by Hon. Albert H. As told in the Herald's previous story the theatres here are under a long term lease to the Maine Theatres Corporation.

His workmen there recently discovered coins dating from the Phoenician occupation and Roman and other coins of the succeeding 2500 years.

The Ames Tuck school of administration and finance was his gift to Dartmouth college. He also gave a building to Concord for historical purposes, a home for nurses at Exeter, and a gift of money to Phillips Academy and Exeter high school.

Court Sets Mrs. Bean Free Without Hearing Her Defense

(By Associated Press)
Farmington, Me., March 2.—Mrs. Ethel H. Bean, on trial for the murder of her husband, a Rungeley Lake guide, was set free by the court without hearing her defense today. The prosecution closed its case yesterday. Attorney General Shaw told the court he did not think the state had sufficient evidence to convict her and suggested a nol pros to which Assistant Justice Dun agreed. Bean was shot down near his house at Haines Landing on the night of Oct. 6 last. It was alleged by the prosecution that Bean's wife was jealous of several waitresses.

Florida Sheriff Repulses Attempt to Lynch Negro Prisoner

(By Associated Press)
Palatka, Fla., March 2.—Eleven members of a mob were captured early today and lodged in the Alachua jail after being repulsed by Sheriff Hogan when they attempted to storm the Putnam county jail here and get a negro prisoner.

More than fifty shots were fired by the mob into the jail, one striking Sheriff Hogan in the left hand. The sheriff slammed the door of the jail in the face of the mob which retreated after shooting through the doors and windows. A fifty foot rope was left behind. Lige Lawrence, the negro, was brought here after Crawford Smith a white man had been shot and killed at Gainesville. It was alleged Ed Lawrence, a brother of Lige, did the shooting.

SHOWS SIGNS OF WEAKNESS

Nicola Sacco Has Refused all Prison Food for Sixteen Days

(By Associated Press)
Dedham, Mass., March 2.—Nicola Sacco, convicted with Bartolomeo Vanzetti of the murder of a paymaster and his guard at South Braintree, showed some signs of weakness today, the sixteenth consecutive day that he has refused all food placed before him by Dedham jail officials. He has continued to drink large quantities of water and the officials assert that he has partaken of fruit and other food brought him by visitors. Yesterday there were no visitors. The Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee declares he has eaten nothing for 15 days.

Dr. Arthur M. Worthington, jail physician, told Sacco that he was committing suicide. "I don't care if I am," Sacco replied.

Counsel for Sacco have made five motions for new trials, a hearing having been set tentatively for next Friday.

FORD

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY YOUR FORD CAR THIS MONTH.

The unprecedented demand for Ford cars throughout the winter months has taken the entire output of the Ford plants working at capacity, indicating that the demand this Spring will be far in excess of the number of Ford Cars that can possibly be built.

January was the tenth consecutive month in which retail deliveries exceeded 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks. Orders for February, the month when preparations are already under way for Spring business, called for 148,407 Cars and Trucks—more than 24,000 in excess of the number we can possibly build.

Ford dealers in many parts of the country are already finding it necessary to specify future delivery dates on Ford Products because there are no reserve stocks to draw from.

Your order placed now will protect you against delay or disappointment later on. It is the only way you can be assured of reasonably prompt delivery.

YORK

York, March 2.—Thomas Sondberg, who is attending Northeastern College and Helen Sondberg who is attending an Art school in Massachusetts, came to York to attend the funeral of George Moulton and J. Augustus Grover.

Harry Moulton of Beech Ridge was in Portsmouth recently.

Mrs. William Bono was in Portsmouth today.

It is expected there will be a good crowd accompany the high school team to Eliot tonight.

Conrad Putnam who is spending the winter in Boston where he is engaged in the real estate business, is making a short stop in York.

Much interest shown in Basketball. Much interest has been shown this winter by the townspeople in basketball games. This is the first winter for several years that there has been any team in the town. Nearly every young man and woman in the town has come out for the game and is on one of the teams of which there are several.

There is said to be very few sports that afford better physical benefits than basketball. The public is showing great interest and there is always a full house at the games whether high school or by the town team.

It was through the efforts of one of the local business men that the use of the town hall was obtained to play the game and it has surely afforded much pleasure.

A number of the men in town have helped to make the success and Myron Cox has shown a double amount of interest as he has given nearly all of his time to coaching the high school team which has been somewhat of a task because they never played before and the game was entirely new to many of them.

It is now nearly time to think of the baseball team and it is expected that while York high has lost many of her old men that she will try for a good team.

The Bull Dogs had a fine football team and it is hoped that they will put on as good a team of baseball men.

The high school team is going to Eliot tonight and will show their true blue and will doubtless bring back the laurels.

They Call Him Bill-A-Day Moody (Taken from Old York Transcript). We take from the "Letters of a Homespun Legislator to His Wife" in the Portland Press Herald of February 14th, the following postscript:

A BIG DRAMATIC SCENE FROM
D. W. GRIFFITH'S
"ORPHANS OF THE STORM"

"ORPHANS" DRAWING MANY SECOND TIME

Beauties of Griffith Picture
Such That Many Seek Re-
Thrills in Dramatic Scenes.

D. W. Griffith's "Orphans of the Storm," based on the well-known stage play, "The Two Orphans," and released through United Artists' Corporation, continues as the mecca of popular interest at the Colonial Theatre where overflowing crowds daily express their delight by applause, laughter and tears. Among the crowds are not a few who saw this screen epic when the engagement first began, but come back to enjoy more of its beauties.

The canvas is so vast and the figures so numerous, colorful and interesting that the work improves on the second seeing. The gorgeous tapestry is most skillfully woven with the heart-stirring, the grotesque, the lovely and the comic side by side in harmonious wealth of detail. It is such detail, as well as the re-sought thrill that causes "Orphans of the Storm" enthusiasts to come again and again.

Always predominantly remains the picture of Henriette and Louise, the loveliest bit of genre on the whole mighty canvas. The Misses Lillian and Dorothy Gish in these characters, Joseph Schildkraut as Henriette's lover, and Monte Blue as Henriette's rescuer in the famous cavalry ride, continue their great hits.

New material in the wild Carmagnole dances and new fooling by Creighton Hale and Porter Strong in the comic roles add hugely to the mirth of the comic interludes.

CONTINENTAL U. S. HAS 110,000,000 POPULATION

(By Associated Press)
New York—The population of the continental United States on Jan. 1, 1923, was approximately 110,000,000 according to a preliminary estimate made by the National Bureau of Economic Research of this city. This shows an estimated gain of 4,500,000 since the date of the last government census.

These figures are necessarily preliminary, says the bureau, for the final census figures on births and deaths are incomplete after the end of 1920. However, enough data are available to show that since Jan. 1, 1921, the rate of increase in population growth has been accelerated noticeably, the present rate approaching that of pre-war years.

This more rapid gain in population, according to the bureau, has been brought about partly by increase in net migration, but has been decidedly reinforced by a reduction in the death rate. At the present rate of growth, the population at the 1930 census will reach 120,000,000.

The estimates by half years are as follows:

1920	(Jan. 1)	105,710,620a
	(July 1)	106,351,000b
1921	(Jan. 1)	106,821,000b
	(July 1)	107,785,000c
1922	(Jan. 1)	108,533,000c
	(July 1)	109,184,000c
1923	(Jan. 1)	110,000,000c

a—Census figures.
b—Final estimate by this bureau.
c—Preliminary estimate.

It is probable that the revisions to be made in all estimates, except that for Jan. 1, 1923, will be relatively slight, but this figure may be changed materially when fuller data on births, deaths and immigration are received.

It is impossible to calculate with precision, the population of the country at any given date, the statement of the bureau says, the reason being that in many of the states, births and deaths are not reported, and even in the registration area a very considerable number of deaths and still more births appear to escape being recorded. There are, presumably, also, minor errors in the statistics of immigration. Because of the difficulties involved the census bureau has made its estimates of the population for the intercensal years on the simple assumption that the rate of growth is the same as in the preceding decade.

This census process, which is termed a straight line extrapolation, has mainly its simplicity to commend it, for, when applied, errors of considerable size gradually accumulate as changing conditions affect population growth. For example, the official method, showed a population for Jan. 1, 1920, nearly two millions greater than that given by the actual census count on that date.

The method of procedure devised by the National Bureau of Economic Research to correct this difficulty is relatively simple. The number of births and deaths have been estimated for each half year and the increase of population due to excess of births over deaths has been calculated. This amount has been corrected by adding the excess of immigration over emigration for each half year. The population for June 30, 1910, has been estimated from a smooth curve, and figures have then been built up for each half year until the census of 1920.

The estimate thus arrived at for Jan. 1, 1920, is in error by approximately half a million or only about one-fourth of the corresponding error resulting from the official method of estimate. The labors of the bureau, in this regard, have been under the immediate direction of Dr. Willford T. King, formerly assistant professor of political economy at the University of Wisconsin, who has been engaged on this work since 1921.

The figures presented in the foregoing table are derived by following the procedure just described, the adjustment to correct inadequate reporting of births and deaths, being the same as those found necessary to offset this error in the last decade.

TOO MUCH COMFORT FATAL TO HUSKIES

Berlin, N. H., March 2.—The crack dog team which Arthur T. Walden of Wonalancet, drove to victory in the international dog race here last year is broken up, the result of too much petting. The huskies stood up under the hard going of the snow trails, but when they were benched at a show in Boston they developed distemper and three of them had to be shot.

The troubles that beset his team, according to Walden, were the results of their show experience. "It is the law of the wild that a husky will die or become distempered if he is housed in," said he. "Men who know told me that would happen to my team, and it did."

FIRST ROUND IN GIRLS' BOWLING CHAMPIONSHIP

The first round in the girls' bowling championship was rolled on Thursday evening at the Arcade alleys and before a good crowd of bowling fans. Mrs. A. O. Shaw one of the entries, was ill and her match with Miss Conway was postponed to be rolled sometime before next Thursday when the semi-finals will be rolled.

The best match of the evening was that between Miss Schurman and Miss Rand, in which Miss Schurman who won by 37 pins rolled an average of 90 for the five strings with one high string of 100.

Miss Gelinus defeated Miss Wilson by 53 pins and Mrs. Horsman defeated Miss Holt by 27 pins.

Miss Gelinus will roll Miss Schurman and Mrs. Horsman will roll the winner of the Shaw-Conway match. Miss Schurman who rolled for the first time this year in the girls' league with the Y. W. C. OWSLEY WOUL D CLOSE DOOR TO IMMIGRANTS

Cleveland March 1.—“We cannot admit more immigrants until we Americanize those already here,” Col. Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion told the National Education Association at the opening of the convention.

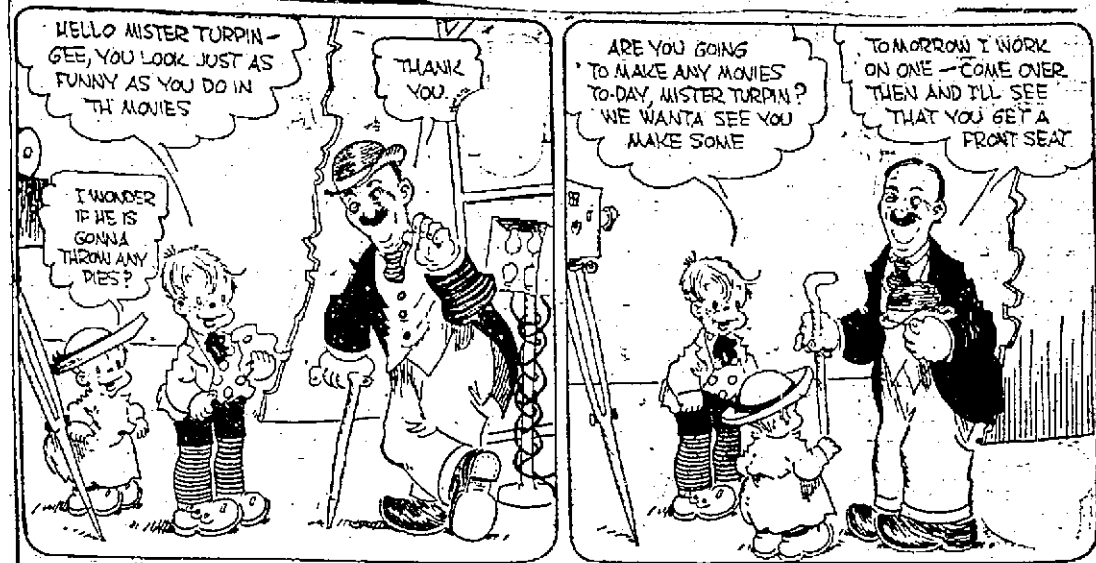

“The will to serve has been America's contribution to civilization,” Colonel Owsley continued. “The will to serve and the will to serve are the first virtues. The knowledge how to serve can be served only by education. There must be one nation with a common cultural development based on a common language.”

Dr. John J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, advocated the establishment of a national department of education with a cabinet officer at its head.

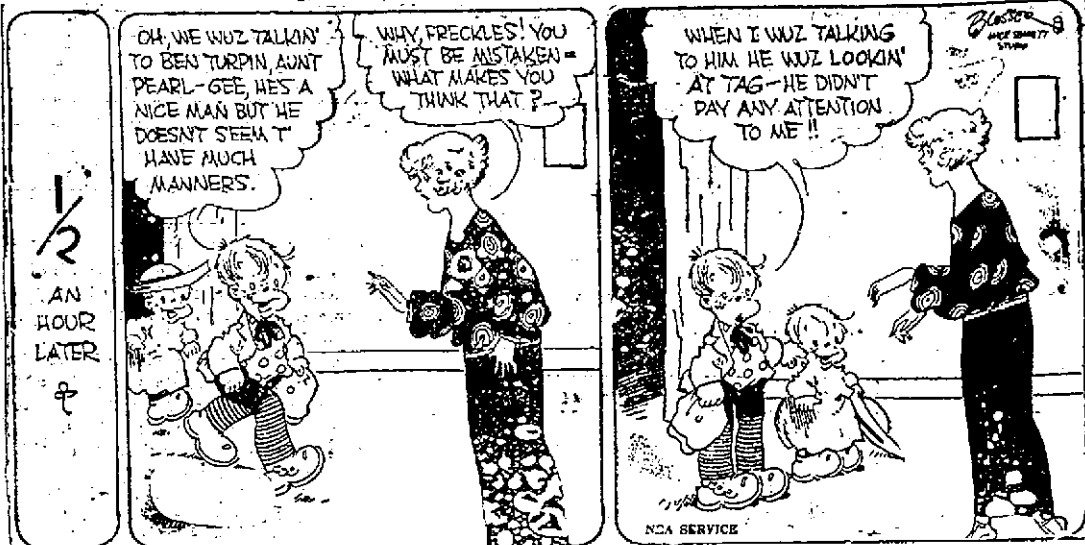

GOOD DRESSER NEEDS FOURTEEN SUITS DURING THE YEAR

New York, March 2.—Fourteen suits, overcoats and twenty-two hats. That is what it takes for a man to dress properly on all ordinary occasions in one year, according to estimates made by the Custom Cutters' Club, composed of tailors and style makers from all over the country who will hold a convention here next month.

The bill will be only $462, shoes included.

That is only the minimum budget and consists of clothing, $3,065; shoes, $580; hats, $347 and furnishings, $657.

One of the features of the convention will be a parade of men as they should dress in the office, on the links, at a morning affair, on the bridge path, on the beach, on the boardwalk, in his yacht, in his car, at the dance, at the opera, as he hunts, as he marries.

Phony notes with KKK signature are not so numerous. The joke has wore out.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

15 NEW NAMES ON B. & M. HONOR ROLL

Result of Heroic Work on Part of Employees at Roundhouse Fire

The Boston and Maine Chapter Local Legion of Railroad Employees claims a gain of 15 new members as a result of the heroic events growing out of the fire in the roundhouse at Reading Highlands.

Each of the 15 men has received a letter entitling him to consider himself elected to the chapter and each man is naturally proud, but no more proud than are all their associates, of their recognition by the management of the road.

The letter which each of the men received follows:

"Allow me to commend you for service performed at Reading Engine house fire.

"Your alertness and prompt action materially assisted in saving railroad property, particularly locomotives.

"Please understand that this service is appreciated and the contents of this letter will be made a part of your permanent record.

Yours truly,

"A. P. Milliken, superintendent."

The fifteen new heroes of the B. & M. railroad system who received the letter are:

Passenger Conductors—G. S. Litchfield, G. L. Gilman, Passenger Trainmen—A. B. Eastbrooks, Edgar Gilman, Charles H. O'Neil, E. F. Dimock, W. E. Scott.
Engineers—Fred Ainsworth, George Meahney, E. L. Abbott, F. A. Colby.
Firemen—J. J. O'Connor, Ralph Nelson.
Switchman—A. F. Noyes.
Station Agent—F. E. Chesley.

These names will be added to the roll of honor in the employees' rest rooms along the system.

"OVERSEAS WEEK" TO DECORATE GRAVES ABROAD

Paris, March 2.—The Overseas Memorial Day Association, of which Ambassador Herriek is chairman, has just authorized a nation-wide "overseas week" beginning April 1, to raise a fund of $300,000 for the purpose of decorating the graves of American soldiers in Europe in perpetuity.

Colonel Francis Drake, commander of the European department of the American Legion, heads the drive committee with Colonel Nelson Jay of Morgan & Harjes, as treasurer. The governors and eminent citizens of each state are being appointed to take subscriptions. Senator Pepper is being asked to take charge of the funds raised in Pennsylvania.

There remain more than 30,000 graves in eight permanent American cemeteries.

MY MARY

(A story of the Civil War, 1861-65)

When the North and the South had parted,
And the war-cry swept the land—
When the call of the bugle resounded,
I answered the command.
From every peaceful hamlet,
The brave lads hurrying came,
Gay youth with gladness faces,
And men with stalwart frame.

I left my home and said good-bye
To all my friends so cheery,
And the last to bid me God-speed,
Was my own dear bonny Mary.
I clasped her close in a fond embrace,
And tears I could not hide,
Zell o'er her golden tresses, fair,
As she stood there by my side.

"Tis war's decree," she whispered low.

"My heart is sore with mourning,
But courage dear, when war is o'er,
I'll wait your safe returning.
I said farewell, and marched away—
O' dark the days, and dreary!
I ne'er lost courage through the fray,
But my heart was with my Mary.

O' Many a brave heart felt the doom,
That might befall the morrow,
And many a "white soul" left the ranks
In those dark days of sorrow.
On beaten march, through divers ways
Letters were slow to come,
And our anxious hearts were breaking
For news from our northern home.

At last the messenger of peace
Her white wings widely spread,
And from war's devastation,
We marched with quickened tread.
I came back to my home again,
O'er hillocks and by ferry,
With fervor in my soldier's heart,
To greet my own dear Mary.

I found that fate had pre-ordained,
Our lives—and so, contrary
To my cherished hopes and dreams,
I found—the grave of my dear Mary
I knelt beside that lonely mound,
Where the tall grass waved above her,
And I pledged my life and a soldier's faith
To my flag and my Mary forever.

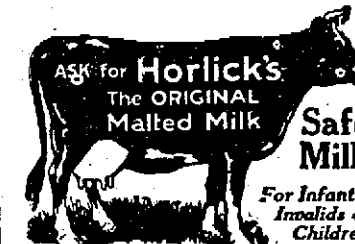

'Tb only a soldier of fortune now,
Just waiting the bugle's call,
Waiting to join the silent ranks
When the darkening shadows fall,
And when my earthly pilgrimage
In this vain world is o'er
And I hear my Mary calling—
Calling from Time's silent shore

I shall pass the waiting sentries!
I shall hear the welcome home!
I shall meet again my Mary,
Where no partings ever come.

NORTHERN YORK COURT PROPOSED

Augusta, March 1.—The bill providing for the creation of the Northern York Municipal Court was championed before the committee on judiciary by Frederick A. Hobbs of Alfred and opposed by Lewis F. Trafton of Sanford, chairman of the York county commissioners. Mr. Trafton said there was no need of the proposed court and that it

ALLIES MAKING CONCESSIONS

Constantinople, March 2.—The allied powers are making repeated concessions to the Turks in an effort to induce the National Assembly at Angora to ratify the Lausanne peace treaty. The French and Italian high commissioners, following the action of the British today informed Adam Bey that their governments were withdrawing warships from Smyrna harbor.

Great Britain, France and Italy are now maintaining only one small warship apiece in the harbor at Smyrna. The great allied fleet, which was massed there while the Turks were threatening hostilities, has been withdrawn.

The situation at Angora is clouded and a censorship is adding to the uncertainty. It is known that leading members of the Turkish cabinet are attempting to have the Lausanne treaty ratified. Ismet Pasha pointed to the withdrawal of the allied warcraft from Smyrna harbor as evidence of the good faith of the allies. The Turkish militarists are insistent that the treaty be rejected.

It was reported that the two factions may agree upon counter proposals to the allies.

TONS OF FISH ARE SMOTHERED

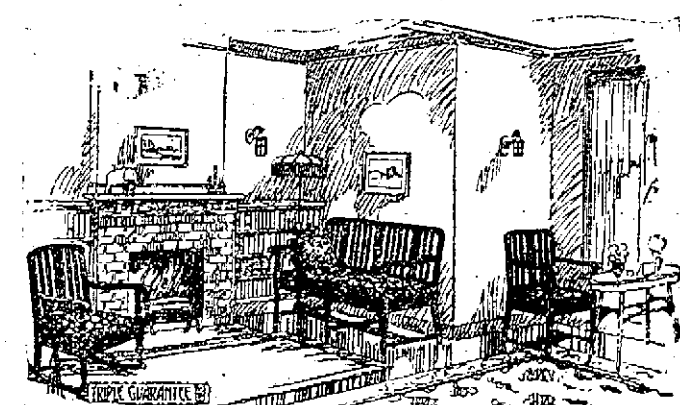

Newburgh, N. Y., March 1.—Tons of fish have been smothered in Glenmore Lake, Orange county, by ice which covers the lake from shore to shore. The ice is more than two feet thick, and on this is a foot or more of snow. Florida obtains its water supply from the lake and the water becoming objectionable, investigation was made by the state conservation commission. When a hole was cut through the ice thousands of dead fishes came to the surface and were carried over the dam. Hundreds of live ones, in search of air, filled the water around the holes which were cut in the ice.

Kellogg's Bran is Guaranteed to give relief BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN!

Relief from constipation, whether it be mild or chronic, will follow the regular, every-day eating of Kellogg's Bran. We have thousands of letters from former sufferers who tell us that the natural "bulk-action" of this wonderful cereal product has given relief they have not known for years. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran will free the system from constipation because it is ALL BRAN—not a composition in which bran is added. If constipation is to be permanently relieved, you must eat ALL BRAN—that's why your physician will recommend Kellogg's for constipation.

Constipation creates toxic conditions which poison the blood and every organ of the body. It slows you down mentally and physically, and creates sick headaches, nausea, bad breath, pimples—finally, in many cases, leading to Bright's disease, diabetes and other dreaded illnesses. You must fight constipation with Kellogg's Bran regularly if you want health!

You'll say Kellogg's Bran is really delicious—it has a nut-like flavor that appeals to the most fastidious appetite. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled on hot or cold cereals or cooked with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonsful of bran for each person. Be certain to eat at least two tablespoonsful each day; as much with each meal in chronic cases. Kellogg's is delicious made into muffins, macaroons, raisin bread, griddlecakes. Recipes in every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels, clubs and restaurants in individual packages. It is sold by all grocers.

A Gentleman and His Wife were returning from a visit to the home of a friend. The lady spoke enthusiastically on the beauty of the decorations and furnishings and held forth at great length on their money cost.

"Oh yes," her husband replied, "but did you see their bath room? They had an old zinc tub, the toilet must have been made before the Civil War and all the plating was worn off the fixtures. I wouldn't have that layout in my barn." "That's the way it struck me," the lady replied. "I don't see why they allow that old rattle trap to spoil their beautiful home."

Have you an unsightly bath room taking away from the beauty of your home? If you have, let us modernize it for you and convert an eyesore into a thing of sanitary beauty.

Equality in Pay.

It happens in our schools and it happens in our industrial life. The salary of certain employees is scaled down because they happen to wear skirts instead of smoking a pipe. Man, who made the laws, scheduled the pay roll and did all the other things to make the world just and equal, ordained that he should receive more pay than a woman, because he happens to be a man.

There seems little justice in this way of looking at employment. There is no reason why women cannot occupy certain positions of men and do it as capably as they. In our schools, the natural tendency of woman to be interested in children should make her a better guide in the formative period of their lives. Women are more patient; they are more sensitive to the delicate changes in the mind and disposition of children. Nature intended them to be the guides of our growing generations. She is far better adapted to conduct them through school than man.

Of course, we are faced with the argument that woman— weaker woman—is incapable of dealing with some of the problems of school life; the problem of corporal punishment. Without departing from the argument in the least, the writer can testify that there are women teachers who can produce as much impression upon the growing youth as men. But the argument of providing men for disciplinary purposes falls flat because, if we needed men for his brute force as a corrector of those who fracture our school laws, there is no need of making him a high salaried official, but hire a prize fighter or any mentally degenerate at a low figure who can produce all the brutality necessary.

But brutality is not needed. It is pure guiding influence the child should have and woman is the one for that, and, for that service, she should be paid justly.

The same rule applies to all forms of employment. When woman takes the place of man, she should have man's pay.

The Rough Road of Life.

The road of life is just about as we make it; though, in spite of all we can do, there are rough spots. There are stumbling blocks; there are pitfalls; there are quicksands. All these are found along the way and sometimes in increasing proportions as we journey forward. Life cannot always be a dream; it should not be one continuous fairy tale. It must have its stern realities and its impressive object lessons.

But, because these conditions are natural, there is no reason why we should make the way harder. Too many of us sit around and grumble because the way is hard; some spend a greater part of their time making excuses for their inability to move forward. If you were traveling along a country road and found a rock confronting you, would you think to remove it by finding fault with the man or condition that left it there. You would get out of your conveyance and remove the stone, not even placing it back again for the next traveller to stumble over.

So, too, on the road of life. We should not delay action by finding fault with conditions, but get busy and remove them. If it is a rough spot in the road, smooth it out; smooth it out, not only for yourself, but for those who follow you. You will, by this act, receive the commendation of all those who follow.

For Mother.

Perhaps, somewhere in this great world of ours your mother is sleeping after the long, hard struggle of life. Not that she did not share the pleasures and comforts it affords, but the road of all mothers is hard. Perhaps, she has laid down to rest beside the pathway of life and you are far from the spot. Perhaps you cannot reach that spot on the day she passed away to pay your humble tribute—to do your sacred duty to her memory.

But there are other mothers in the city or town where you are living. Other mothers, whose boys and girls have wandered far away from the old home, who cannot offer their tribute. Why not exchange places for the day? Why not pay the tribute to your mother by decorating the grave of some mother in the place where you are on the memorial day of her passing? This simple act would pay a slight part of the obligation you owe to her who made life possible for you.

The passing of Bourke Cockran removes from American political life one of its most dramatic figures. He has occupied the center of the stage in New York for nearly a half century. Brilliant in oratory, sagacious in diplomacy; he was a figure that passes before our gaze but once in a decade.

A New York man asserts he was robbed of $62,000 in money from under his pillow on a sleeping car. A man who will carry that amount, in these days, cannot expect much sympathy. There are safe ways of transporting such amounts, much safer than a pillow case.

It looks now as though civilization will pave a way into the wilds of Labrador with death and bitter disappointment; the same as it has into every new gold discovery since the beginning of time.

WALKING AUTO SEEMS PRACTICAL INVENTION

The walking automobile invented by Louis Perrelli of this city has all the appearances of a machine of much commercial value and seems entirely practical.

Mr. Perrelli has a small model of his invention which works perfectly and clearly demonstrates the advantage to be derived from such a machine.

The chief difference between this machine and the ordinary automobile is that instead of front wheels it has six legs, three on each side. These form the motive power and it will be possible to use either wheels or runners on the rear.

The legs will make a forward step of 32 inches and will step up 12 inches, thus making it possible for the machine to step up onto a platform or over any obstacle more than ten inches high. It can make a speed of forty miles an hour.

It is the belief of Mr. Perrelli that the walking auto will be especially valuable in logging operations over deep snow, using runners in place of rear wheels, or in farming operations in swampy or muddy ground where rear wheels with a wide iron shoe could be used.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Why Kick Now?
Editor Herald:—

Why kick at this late date because the school nurse has been relieved of her duties? You were told before election that your taxes would be reduced; you did not ask how, but if you thought about it at all you knew it could not be done unless something we already had was taken away from us. Anyone interested in the schools knows that if a cut of any kind is contemplated in the city budget that the schools suffer first.

At the present time we have no teacher of art in any of our schools, our teachers salaries are much below those of many other cities, teacher after teacher refuses to come here on account of the salary and the one who does come take other positions as soon as possible, many whose homes are in the city go elsewhere to teach simply because they can make better pay.

But then, why have doctors and nurse both in the public family, it really is too expensive isn't it?

INTERESTED.

Who's To Blame?
To the Editor:—

Have you space for a few questions for the Kittery Tax Payers to consider?

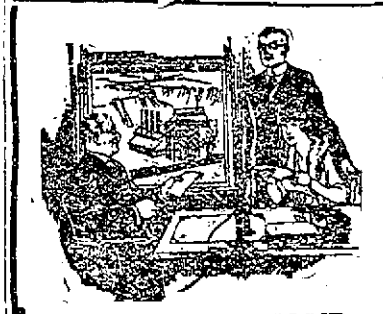

March 12th will be Town Meeting day. What do the voters of the town know of plans before they attend?

Who is to be considered to hold our town offices?

For what do these candidates stand? Do they stand for a better Kittery or are they content to let affairs remain as they are or grow worse?

Are they for a prosperous Kittery or content to sit down and do nothing?

Do they intend to help to bring new industries to the town or to see present and future tax payers starved out by—

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

SOMETIMES you wake up in the morning to find the house frightfully cold. Mother lights the gas in the oven, or perhaps the top burners, and the kitchen soon becomes comfortable.

My, but that warmth is welcome! You would gladly pay almost anything for it—just then. Kindly remember, therefore, that when the bill comes in some mild day a month later that you got some extra and very valuable heating service from gas service when you needed it badly.

Gas ovens are not an economical means of warming up a room. They are built to keep heat in. Gas appliances are built to throw heat out. For quick action to offset these sudden drops in temperature there is nothing to equal a good, modern, gas heating appliance.

PORTSMOUTH GAS COMPANY

cause we live in times of peace? Will they work together as officials in regularly appointed meetings or be content to transact our town's business in a haphazard way? Will they work with the citizens who place them in office with honesty and frankness, individually or collectively when asked for a hearing, or will they evade and close doors against an aggressive community? Will you help to place Kittery on the map as a wide awake, progressive town, rising from its ashes of indifference, and its dependence on Portsmouth and the navy yard, by utilizing its many resources so it can stand on its own feet?

MESSANGER BOY TO MANAGER
Seventeen-Year-Old Portsmouth Boy is Filling Responsible Position

In 17-year-old George Gillispie, son of Mrs. W. C. McPheters and recently appointed acting manager at the Natick, Mass., office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Portsmouth undoubtedly has the youngest manager of a telegraph office in the country.

Young Gillispie, who rose from messenger boy to manager, is a shining example of what persistent work and application to business will do. When young Gillispie was in his second year at the Portsmouth high school, it became necessary for him to seek employment in order to help out the family finances, and although he regretted extremely giving up his studies he went to work with a will, starting in as a messenger boy for the Postal Telegraph Company. Shortly after he went with the Western Union in the same capacity. There it was seen that he possessed unusual ability and through this and his strict attention to business, he was soon in position for advancement and the Natick position is the result of his earnest endeavor to make good.

Gillispie is a fine telegraph operator and proficient in all lines of the work.

TELLS OF ANIMAL LIFE IN AFRICA

At the High School Assembly hall last evening Earl Rossman gave a most interesting lecture on "Trails in Africa." The talk was illustrated by a set of moving pictures in natural colors. These pictures were taken in Africa and were two years in the making, owing to the great difficulty in photographing the wild animals of the African jungles. The entire lecture was highly interesting and all who attended had a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

MANY SHOE FIRMS TO LEAVE HAVERHILL
Claims They Cannot do Business Under Present Conditions
A representative of the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers' Association announced on Thursday that seven shoe firms are negotiating to move out of that city.

Nathan Hopkins of the Hopkins & Ellis firm, said that the firm has not definitely decided upon the location which it has been looking over in Newburyport and that other sites for the factory are being considered. He would not give out the names of the other cities being considered.

The manufacturers' representative declared that the seven shoe firms who are thinking of leaving the city, cannot do business under present conditions. He asserts that while a working agreement would be signed by the manufacturers and the union, it would not mean prosperity, adding that the manufacturers would do business as long as they could and then stop.

MAY PUT TEETH IN DAYLIGHT ACT

N. H. Senate Committee Urges Penalty for Violators of Standard Time-- Would Exempt All Railroads in State

Concord, N. H., March 1.—Amendments to the senate anti-daylight saving bill introduced in a new draft in the senate today with a favorable report, exempts the railroad from the penalty clause, if schedules are approved by the public service commission.

Schedules are arranged to conform to daylight saving laws in other states provided the state public service commission approves the changes. A fine of $1000 or one year's imprisonment is imposed for persons in cities or towns of the state who use other than standard time.

Several cities in the state have been accustomed to adapt their time to the Massachusetts' standard. The bill now pending is the same as that passed two years ago. The present law, however, having no penalty provision and including the railroads operating in the state in the prohibition.

The house today passed a bill appropriating $30,000 to meet a deficit in the appropriation of the state hospital for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 and a bill enabling towns and village districts to establish sewer commissioners.

The senate passed bills making election days a legal holiday for school teachers, increasing the salary of the sheriff of Hillsboro county from $800 to $1000 and abolishing sewer, street lighting, sprinkling, garbage and other precincts and establishing one project for the city for the purpose of taxation, Mayor Chamberlin and other city officials favored the change.

SPAULDING TELLS OF EUROPEAN CONDITIONS

Gives Interesting Address at Business Men's Supper at Y. M. C. A.

Huntley Spaulding of Rochester, chairman of the state board of education and a well known New Hampshire business man, was the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. business men's supper on Thursday evening. Former Mayor F. W. Hartford presided and every chair at the tables were filled.

The Concord train was about 45 minutes late and Mr. Spaulding arrived just in time. He must have felt more than pleased at the warmth of the reception accorded him and the presiding officer's introduction. He was received with every man standing.

Mr. Spaulding described in detail

HUNTLEY N. SPAULDING

his recent trip to Europe during which he visited England, France, Italy, Belgium, Germany and Austria, particularly Austria where he visited the children's feeding station where three million children are being fed. He spoke of the great love of the children for America, and quoted Herbert Hoover as saying that he had rather plant in the hearts of the children of Europe love and respect for the American flag than to control the forts and citadels.

He told in a touching manner of his experiences among the children of Belgium and of their nightly prayer which is: "God bless mother and father and Herbert Hoover."

Mr. Spaulding also spoke of the political situation in the countries of Europe and of the spirit of unrest which is prevalent saying that the cause of this was the strong nationalist feeling and said that while he was in sympathy with France, especially after travelling through its devastated section, he did not believe that France was right now in seeking to collect reparation from Germany, which he believes Germany is unable to pay.

Mr. Spaulding spoke of educational conditions in New Hampshire and said that the crisis was passed on Wednesday when the house killed the bill which would have done away with state-wide supervision of the schools, which he said in his opinion meant the very life of the schools. He stated that his office had received over one hundred letters on the matter and of these only two were against state-wide supervision. The public school systems of this state were being improved every year he said.

Robert J. Eustace, the new managing secretary of the Chamber of Commerce received his first public introduction, being presented to the gathering by Mr. Hartford, and was well received.

Brief addresses were made by State Secretary Ernest Conlan of Concord, Y. M. C. A., State Secretary of Boys' Work, Rev. William Safford Jones, pastor of the Unitarian church, and Frederick Morrison, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A.

Music was furnished by C. W. Gray and the Girls' Quartette with W. W. McIntire at the organ.

KITTERY PLAYS NORTH BERWICK ON SATURDAY

Kittery town team has two good games scheduled. On Saturday night the Kittery players meet the North Berwick team, and this time hope to make a better showing than in the last game in which the Berwick team had everything its own way.

On Monday they are to play the York Bull Dogs, the long delayed game. The weather has been hard on the York team and they not only have hard luck getting teams to play at York, but also in their efforts to play out of town themselves owing to the heavy snow. There is a great deal of rivalry between the two teams and the game on Monday should attract the biggest crowd that can get into Wentworth hall.

ADVENTUROUS BRITISH GENERAL ARDOUS JOURNEY COMPLETES HAZ

(By Associated Press)

Calcutta.—Brigadier General George Pereira of the British army, saw active service in both the South African and European wars, and in spite of these experiences and his 53 years, the love of adventure in this soldier was so strong that he started alone two years ago on a 7,000-mile journey of the utmost difficulty. So far as the records go, no man had ever before made the trip the general selected for his adventure. He covered half the distance on foot, and is now in a Calcutta hospital recovering from the effects of some of his hardships.

After the armistice General Pereira was sent to Peking as military attaché to the British embassy. In January of 1921 he was ready to go back to England, but his sporting instinct had been aroused by tales of the difficulty of travel through certain sections of China and he received permission to make his way overland to Calcutta.

The first lap of his journey was luxurious, a first-class coach from Peking to Tientsin. Thence a Chinese car carried him to Shanai. When he had crossed the Wangho he proceeded, partly by train, to Loryang where, he was the guest of General Wu Pei-fu, who was busily engaged at the time in leading a widespread political and revolutionary movement against the constituted authority.

General Pereira visited Sianfu, the old capital of the country, and climbed the Hwasshan, one of the sacred mountains of China. This climb was extremely difficult. The mountain consists of great rocks, with steep, zig-zag paths winding upward between them. The paths are cut into the rocks in the form of irregular steps, some of which are a foot or two in height. At the sides of these paths are precipitous drops of 2,000 feet or more. The climb had to be made with the assistance of iron chains.

The general's itinerary then took him through the bandit infested provinces of Shensi and Sze-chuen. In one of these provinces there are reported to be 50,000 brigands. Just before General Pereira went through a mission-a stop to the practice of soliciting funds in the name of the Salvation Army by unauthorized persons, members of other organizations and by Salvationists themselves, who in their zeal often go outside of the territory allotted them.

Colonel McIntyre says he is determined to protect the public in the New England provinces against impostors who go about soliciting funds in the name of the Salvation Army. Very often generously disposed people make donations which they are led to believe are to be used for Salvation Army charitable and relief work.

Letters to heads of police departments and mayors of every city and town in New England were sent from Provincial headquarters in Boston yesterday. This letter contained an invitation to police officials to challenge all persons who claim to be soliciting funds for the Salvation Army. All authorized solicitors will be provided with a pass, such as Colonel McIntyre describes in his letter. The public is requested to co-operate with the Salvation Army in this matter for the purpose of mutual protection.

In communities where campaigns are to be organized and conducted under the direction of a Salvation Army representative, it very often happens that teams or groups of civilians do all or most of the soliciting. These civilians are known to most people living in the neighborhood where they will work, and because of this will not be required to have a pass.

RUTHLESS EFFICIENCY IS THE WATCHWORD

(By Associated Press)

Rome.—Italy's ponderous bureaucratic machine, the dismemberment of which has been the promise and aim of numerous Italian governments since the armistice, is finally, under the virile and strenuous administration of Premier Mussolini, about to crumble. His government has just put into effect, through the issuance of a royal decree, a scheme designed to give the maximum efficiency for the least cost to all the services of the state.

At one blow the new decree retires all state employees over 65 years of age, and those who have served for a period of 40 years. All employees who, by reason of incapacity, are not able properly to perform the functions for which they are employed, are to be dispensed with. This will include those whose services are not deemed satisfactory by their superiors.

A thorough weeding out of all dead wood in all branches of the government service is to take place. The decree orders all the ministers and their subordinate executives to make a complete revision of the payrolls. The army and the navy and other state military organizations, such as the recently established militia, are exempted from the provisions of the decree. The Italian state railroads will be dealt with in a later decree devoted to that branch of the service. The appointment of Deputy Torre as a commissioner-general of railroads also is expected to take care of a great deal of the excess labor on the railroads' payrolls.

Those who, through their long service to the state are entitled to draw pensions, will be accorded that privilege under the new decree. They also will be allotted on retirement a sum equal to six months' pay. Those who have served less than 20 years will receive as many months' pay as years they have spent in the state service.

WHAT ELECTION MARCH 13 MEANS TO THE PEOPLE

Intangibles, Inheritances, Gasoline Only Affected

General Income Levy Opposed Say Committee

The following will throw some light on the matter of taxation and what the people are to vote on in the special election on March 13. A change of one word in the state constitution is what will be decided by the voters.

The statement of those who brought about this matter that so much concerns the people of New Hampshire is the following:

Justice requires that the burden of taxation upon property should be distributed upon the citizens of the state according to their ability to bear taxes. The chief measure of the ability to bear taxes is the possession of productive wealth. The wealth of the state is divided into two different classes of property: First, physical or tangible property, such as real estate, live stock, stock in trade; and second, so-called intangible property, such as bonds, notes, money at interest, and capital stock. These two classes differ in many respects; and long experience has proven that they cannot be treated by the same methods, but each ought to bear its reasonable and just share of the public burden.

All competent authorities agree that there is approximately an equal amount of each of these two classes of property. This means that there is as much intangible property owned in New Hampshire as there is of real estate and other forms of visible property.

The taxing power of our legislature was fixed in our constitution at a time when only the first class of so-called tangible property existed; and the present taxing powers of the legislature are adapted effectively to reach only that class. Our legislature has never been able to secure any appreciable contribution from the owners of intangibles, and consequently the ever increasing burden has been thrown upon real estate and other tangible property.

In 1922, the taxes actually collected from real estate amounted to over $11,000,000, whereas the taxes collected from bonds and notes, bank stocks and from money on hand amounted to less than $300,000.

In 1922, intangible property, excluding the savings bank tax, returned for taxation, amounted to two and one-tenth per cent of all the tangible property in the state. On the other hand, real estate alone represented about 80 per cent of the total value of the state.

The proposed amendment strikes out the word "proportional," but leaves in full force and effect the word "reasonable." If this amendment is adopted, the legislature will be free to impose reasonable taxes upon owners of intangibles by the methods adopted successfully in other states.

Furthermore, this amendment would settle all questions as to the legality of a graduated inheritance tax, and would enable the legislature safely to impose reasonable rates on inheritances. Also, it would give our legislature power to levy the tax on gasoline which has already been enacted in 14 states and is being considered by other neighboring states in New England. The additional revenue so obtained would make it possible to reduce the unfair burden laid upon real estate and tangible property by reducing the direct state tax.

It would enable the legislature to consider a more equitable and foresighted method of taxing growing timber.

The purpose of the amendment is not to give the legislature more money to spend, but to enable it to distribute the existing burden more widely and equitably.

If this amendment is defeated, it will be impossible to give any appreciable relief from the burden of unfair taxation for at least five years, and probably in actual fact it would be longer.

The proposed amendment should not be regarded as "wide-open." In no sense does it remove all restrictions from the legislature. The word "reasonable" is still retained; and the Supreme Court would undoubtedly over-rule any tax law that was unjust, arbitrary or confiscatory. Any new law would have to be passed by the House, by the Senate, signed by the Governor, and finally, upheld by the Supreme Court. This amendment in no sense enlarges the power of the legislature to appropriate money. It has unlimited power now to appropriate money. It does, however, give the legislature the power to equalize and fairly to distribute taxes and make all classes of property bear their fair share of the public burden.

Neither is this proposed amendment new or revolutionary. It would merely give to our legislature the same power to distribute the burden of taxation equitably that is exercised by the legislatures of most of the other States of the Union.

CROSS CHANNEL FLYING IS HEDGED WITH SAFEGUARDS

(By Associated Press)

London.—Air trips between London and Paris are being made safer all the time, and before long passengers will almost be denied the thrill of taking a chance. Even if the airplane is forced down upon the waters of the Channel, the passengers may be rescued so quickly that they will have to use their imaginations to order to interest their friends with an account of the experience when they get back home. The Air Ministry is seeing to this.

Arrangements for hurrying channel craft to the aid of a plane that falls in the water have just been completed and successfully tested. As all the trans-Channel fliers are equipped with wireless telephones, the authorities have adopted a new international distress word for aircraft. It is "May Day," the phonetic equivalent of "Maid," the French for "Help Me."

In a recent test a Royal Air Force flying boat was secretly instructed to make a "forced landing" with "engine trouble" at the certain point over the water. This was done. While planning down, the craft gave the distress signal three times. It was picked up by wireless stations at Croydon and Lympe. The station at Pulham got a bearing on the seaplane's position. A call was put through to the dock master at Dover, and twenty minutes after the airship asked for help, a tug was alongside her.

The new protective arrangements will be in effect night and day, as regular night air service to Paris and back soon is to be established.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

AURA LEES IN VICTORY OVER MARINE TEAM

The Aura Lees basketball team defeated the Marines second team at the navy yard Thursday evening 49 to 29. It was a fast game in which fouls were very few. Davis was the star of the locals, shooting eight baskets and six fouls. Thomas shot four and Buckley caged the same number.

The Aura Lees will play the York Bull Dogs at York on Tuesday night.

The score:

AURA LEES (40)	MARINES (29)
Thomas 11	lb Howard

SLAYER WALKS TWENTY MILES TO SURRENDER

Middletown, N. Y., March 1.—The authorities of Pike county, Pa., announced yesterday that Joseph Gould, fifty years old, trudged twenty miles through deep snow from a mountain lumber camp to Milford, Pa., Sunday night to surrender himself after mortally wounding Earl Raitt, twenty-eight, a woodsman, during a quarrel over Gould's sixteen-year old daughter. The girl and her sister, a Mrs. Van Whyk, served meals for the lumbermen in the lodging camp at Creek Swamp. Gould, the authorities say, claims Raitt was about to attack him when he fired five shots into his body.

MILE LONG ARMY TRUCK CONVOY

Boston, March 1.—A convoy of army motor trucks more than one mile long is expected to arrive in Boston this afternoon, bringing a large consignment of army supplies from Camp Holabird at Baltimore. The trucks are manned by seventy-five soldiers and are in charge of Captain William T. Kilbourne, Jr., of the Quartermaster Department at the local army headquarters. The detachment of soldiers left Boston on Feb. 2, going over the road in four trucks. Each night the troops were quartered in armories along the route by courtesy of state authorities. The convoy comprises thirty-nine Garford cargo trucks, two 750-gallon tank trucks, five kitchen trailers, one staff observation car and eight other cargo trucks of various capacities. The heavy shipment of building equipment for use at Camp Devens in connection with next summer's Citizens' Military Training Camp, when 30,000 New England officers and men and 3000 students are expected to be enrolled is being brought on the trucks because of the freight embargo. The motor equipment will be used for the partial motorization of the Thirtieth Infantry at Boston and the Fifth Infantry at Portland.

HONOR MARINE BAND LEADER

Washington, March 2.—Recognition of 25 years of faithful service by Wm. H. Santelmann, leader of the marine band was made yesterday when hundreds of his friends will call upon him and offer their congratulations to the bandmaster. On March 3, 1898 Santelmann was appointed leader of the marine band. Prior to that time he had served eight years as a member of the organization which was then under the direction of John Philip Sousa. To Santelmann falls the credit for bringing the band to its present high standard. When first appointed its leader he outlined a complete reorganization of the band, which included an increase in membership from thirty to sixty and the raising of salaries of the musicians 200 per cent. Congress approved his action and President McKinley affixed his signature to the act March 3, 1899. Realizing the necessity for a orchestra Santelmann departed from the strictly brass band idea and organized an orchestra from the membership of his band. After four years of preparation the orchestra was ready for use at the White House. In recognition of his services to the public Santelmann has received a num-

GERMANS CHEER FOOTBALL TEAMS AS FRENCH ENTER RUHR

(By Associated Press)
Dusseldorf.—The roads around Essen were still choked with French infantry, slow-moving tanks, machine-gun companies and batteries of "seventy-five," all entering the Ruhr. A group of newspaper correspondents was rejoicing that the occupation had been accomplished with no clashes, or less of life. Then at a point near Ratingen the observers came upon a large crowd of Germans in an open field, shouting, gesticulating and evidently greatly excited. "Here is where the trouble begins" was the general feeling, as a battalion of French infantry swung down the road close to the noisy Germans. But nothing happened, except that the Germans continued their uproar. A correspondent who always insists on getting facts investigated the Germans and learned they were workingmen from a steel mill applauding a friendly game of football between two picked mill teams during the dinner hour.

MORE OFFICERS WILL TAKE UP NAVY AVIATION

Washington, March 1.—Increased classes in aviation in the navy have been ordered by the department so that as many officers of the service as possible may be made conversant with this form of warfare, according to an article written by Edwin Denby secretary of the navy, for the Aerial Age. Especial attention to this development is being given during the winter manoeuvres of the fleet and it will be continued until fleet aviation has become a recognized branch of the naval establishment. The navy department theory is that constant aviation to which our energies have been directed in the past will not prove sufficient in the event of another war, but that the navy must be prepared to take its air force to sea and use it there with aircraft carriers as the bases. "During the world war," said Mr. Denby in his article, "the efforts of the navy were directed toward the building up of coastal aviation. This was due to the peculiar situation when the United States entered the war, that is to say, the German submarine activities were so widespread through the British Channel, the Bay of Biscay and the Mediterranean that it was necessary to build up huge coastal stations equipped with aircraft to combat these submarines an undertaking that was carried out with pronounced success. Further, during the war, because of the fact that the British fleet had sufficient aviation units, we were not obliged to contribute to that phase of aeronautical warfare. "Since the war, however, we have placed our major efforts in placing aviation with the fleet. "One of the first duties which will be required of fleet aviation in future wars will be to carry out reconnaissance over enemy bases. While our fleet is still at a great distance from the enemy his fleet will probably be assembled at one or more of his naval bases. "The commander-in-chief must know the distribution of the enemy's forces to conduct the situation. "If the enemy bases were within one or two hundred miles of our coast, our scouting planes could carry out the reconnaissance from our land bases. In the world war our little sea-planes based on Porto Corsini could easily fly across the Atlantic a distance of sixty miles, and take photographs of the Austrian fleet at Pola. However, these conditions will not be repeated in future wars. What suitable locations for enemy naval bases are there within a few hundred miles of our coast. If we were to reconnoiter enemy naval bases it must be done by airplane flown off airplane carriers."

NEARLY READY FOR BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Durham, March 1.—The field of competing teams for the New Hampshire State interscholastic basketball tournament is narrowing down so that conflicts appear only in four counties.

Of the teams practically assured of being in the tournament are to be found Manchester, Meredith, Kimball Union academy, Bartlett high of North Conway and Littleton high, which won the rubber clash with Ashland.

Then up in Coos the two quintets running about even are Colebrook academy, always noted for its basketball team, and Berlin. In Merrimack there is a stiff battle raging between Franklin high and Proctor. Dover and Rochester are out to represent Stafford. They play their second game on Saturday next and if they even up victories a rubber game will be played next Tuesday.

Exeter has challenged Portsmouth's right to compete in the tournament and the two teams probably will have it out within a few days.

The only restrictions that the committee has placed on the players is that they shall not have played more than four years and that they shall not have reached their twentieth birthday. Tilton, last year's champions, will not send a team.

HOME BUILDING INCREASED IN 1922

Chicago.—Building of homes in the midwest in 1922 surpassed all previous history for the section, according to available preliminary reports on the year. A few sections reported no increase as compared with previous records, but nearly all indicated building boom under way.

In Chicago building permits were issued to a value of $255,742,000, an increase of $100,000 over the previous year. The rush of January permits pointed the possibility of an even greater building year in 1923. In 1922 Chicago built 6,280 residences and 3,553 apartments.

An open winter was a factor in keeping up building in much of the northwest.

Kentucky reported a new high peak in building estimated at $45,000,000 for the year, while preliminary Louisville figures estimated building at about 100 per cent more than ever before. Demand for homes was reported keeping ahead of construction.

Figures for eight large cities in Indiana gave $57,500,000 as the value of building permits, compared with $36,200,000 the previous year.

Omaha reported slightly fewer building permits in 1922, but a larger number of homes erected, these numbering 1,552 compared with 988 for 1921.

Kansas reports gave a 15 to 20 per cent increase in construction over 1921.

Missouri gave an estimate of about $63,000,000 for the year, with St. Louis at $25,000,000 compared with $16,500,000 in 1921, and Kansas City at $23,000,000 compared with $16,000,000. These estimates came from St. Louis contracting firms.

Oklahoma City reported that the building in that state was not extraordinary, but that the construction on small homes led.

noted increases in home building and estimated a 3 per cent increase for the state of Minnesota in home construction in 1922. F. W. Dodge and Company estimated that notwithstanding the increase in the home item, the value of total new construction of all classes for the state was about six per cent less than in 1921, due in part to agricultural conditions.

MANY MEAT ANIMALS ARE MARKETED

(By Associated Press)
Washington.—More meat animals were marketed and materially higher prices were obtained by the livestock producers of the country last year as compared with 1921, according to the Department of Agriculture.

The combined receipts of cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs at public stockyards last year amounted to $9,649,002 head, compared with $8,055,815 in 1921 and $7,855,454 in 1920. The increase in the combined marketings during 1922 over 1921 was 4,593,187 head or 5.1 per cent and the increase over 1920 was 1,793,548 head or 2 per cent. It was the exceptionally large receipts of cattle, calves and hogs which resulted in the increases, the marketings of sheep and lambs in 1922 having been the lightest since 1917.

The general level of prices during 1922 was materially higher than a year earlier and with the exception of cattle during the first five months of the year only in rare instances did any class of stock drop to the 1921 level. In view of the relatively light supplies available, lambs led in the upward movement of prices, the 1922 average being $2.54 higher per 100 lbs. than for 1921. Ewes advanced $1.09, hogs 71 cents and good and medium beef steers 25 cents, all per 100 lbs.

Compared with 1920, however, the 1922 prices followed substantially lower levels, hogs being $4.69 under the 1920 level, cattle $4.57, ewes $2.17 and lambs $1.92, all per 100 lbs.

One of the outstanding features of the livestock market during 1922 was the relatively heavy movement of stockers and feeders. The increase in receipts was impressive but this movement was largely neutralized by the increase over 1921 in shipments of animals back to the country for further feeding.

A fair conception of this shifting of the stream of meat animals from the shambles back to the feed-lot may be gained from the fact that in 1921 stocker and feeder shipments represented 8.3 per cent of the receipts, while in 1922 they represented 10.8 per cent. Thus, although during 1922 receipts of livestock increased 5.1 per cent and local slaughter 3.1 per cent, stocker and feeder shipments increased 36.5 per cent over the preceding year. This single fact serves as an excellent index both of the change in sentiment among live-stock producers and of the improvement in general credit and trade conditions during the year just closed.

An outstanding feature of the cattle movement was the striking increase in the marketing of both western range cattle and Canadian cattle. From July 15 to Dec. 30 receipts of such stock at Chicago alone amounted to 269,109 head, compared with 148,614, during the corresponding period of 1921, an increase of approximately 81 per cent.

Although during a greater part of 1922 cattle prices lagged somewhat behind those of hogs and sheep, a fact which was the basis of rather bitter complaint and considerable loss on the part of range cattlemen in particular, cattle prices were noteworthy in that there was an absence of sudden and wide fluctuations in price and a steadily upward trend. During the entire year weekly average prices of good and medium beef steers, which grades constituted more than 75 per cent of the steers offered, fluctuated within the extremely narrow range of $1.86 per 100 lbs. Opening prices were within 10 cents of the lowest of the year and closing quotations were only 25 cents under the high point.

LOCAL HIGH PLAYS EXETER HERE TUESDAY

Exeter high and Portsmouth high will settle the basketball championship of Rockingham county at Froeman's hall on Tuesday afternoon and the winner will be picked to represent this county in the state championship series at New Hampshire college on Friday and Saturday of next week.

Exeter has the best team it has ever been able to get together and after its defeat of the Dover team at once began to lay claim to the right to the right to meet Portsmouth high for the right to play at New Hampshire college. All efforts to secure a game were impossible and it was not until yesterday that Coach Jordan received the final word that Exeter would come here on Tuesday next and play if the game could be played in the afternoon. The arrangements were quickly completed and Assistant Coach Swasey of New Hampshire college will referee the game. He is one of the best referees in this section and is satisfactory to all concerned.

The locals are scheduled to play Manchester high at Manchester on Wednesday, but if they win from Exeter it is the opinion of many that this game should be cancelled, as it would be altogether too much to expect a team to play two games in one week and then be in condition to play in the tournament on Friday and Saturday. In all probability the game will be called off as Manchester will be perfectly willing not to replay its team before it comes down to New Hampshire college.

The locals have a hard game with the Edward Little high here tomorrow evening and while the schedule has not been heavy as that of last year, it has been as large as any of the teams that will take part in the state tournament.

AMERICAN SPORTSMEN ARE SLATED TO APPEAR ON FOREIGN FIELDS

(By Associated Press)
New York.—The battleground of international rivalry in sports will shift this year from the United States to Great Britain.

The program of events arranged so far indicates that many of the fixtures in different branches of competition, contested on this side of the Atlantic last season, will take place abroad this year. In several instances the United States will defend its championship honors on foreign fields and waters.

While the final Davis Cup matches will be held in this country again, with America defending its team title, leading contests in golf, yachting and track and field sports will be staged on the other side.

The Walker Cup, emblematic of the amateur team golf championship, successfully defended here last season by America, will be contested for on British links, but unless several stars change their minds before spring, it is unlikely that the United States will be able to muster its strongest array for the invasion in May.

The American amateurs also will compete in the British individual tournament while several of America's foremost professionals are expected again to take part in the British open championship, won last year by Walter Hagen, American homebred star. At present it is doubtful if any organized British invasion for the principal golf events in this country will be made.

Contests for both the British-American Cup, team trophy, and the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Cup, individual trophy, among six-metre yachts, both will be staged in Scottish waters in August. The team cup was won off Long Island last summer by American craft, but the individual yacht prize was carried overseas by the British sloop Colia.

Harvard and Yale track stars have arranged to meet a combined Oxford and Cambridge team in England in July, and it is possible that this country also will be represented in international track and field meets at Paris, in May, and Sweden, in July.

Syracuse lacrosse team will add to the flavor of international competition abroad by invading England in June.

HOME LIFE MENACED

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded women by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, all of which are perfectly justified if not abused and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and social life, to take on outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for lack of strength or some ailment develops because of overwork. Weak and ailing women will do well to remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, and let it help them.

SEEK SQUARE DEAL BETWEEN FARMERS AND SPORTSMEN

(By Associated Press)
Concord, N. H.—The sportsman sometimes has hard words for the farmer who posts "no trespassing" signs along a trout brook or in a tract of woodland that promises good hunting. The farmer feels a righteous indignation against the fisherman or hunter who carelessly or maliciously breaks down his fences and stones walls and leaves gates open and bars down so that the cattle get out of the pasture. To remedy this situation the New Hampshire Fish and Game League has been organized to promote better sport and better relations between farmer and sportsman in this state.

The object of the league is declared to be "to encourage, assist and advise the state authorities in propagation and protection, to obtain the proper spirit of co-operation between the land owner and the real sportsman, and to lessen and do away with the depredations and lawlessness of the irresponsible hunter and fisherman." It links together 47 sporting clubs scattered throughout the state.

In announcing its purposes, the league points out that the entire expense of planting millions of game fish and distributing many rabbits and pheasants by the state fish and game commission in the last two years was covered by hunting and fishing license fees and fines paid by violators of the fish and game laws. The league estimates that the more than 18,000 non-residents who paid for licenses in the year ended June 30 last, brought into the state fully $1,572,800.

"The hotel keeper, the garage man, the farmer, the roadside store, the sporting camp and in fact everybody gets a share of this," says the league announcement. "Slightly over four dollars each to every resident of the state. Is this worth having? Do you want a share in helping? Law violations are to be stopped and a friendly understanding promoted. The league stands for a square deal, thinks of the other fellow, and puts good citizenship above everything else."

The state fish and game commissioner is made an ex-officio member of the executive committee of the league.

STRONG NATIONAL DEFENSE URGED

Navy Engineers Believe Care Should Be Used in Scraping Ships

Washington, March 2.—The need of a strong national defense was emphasized, and navy needs and navy efficiency, the progress of warship construction and glimpses of future developments along that line, were the high lights of a series of addresses featuring the 34th annual banquet of the American Society of Naval Engineers held here Wednesday evening. Secretary Denby was the principal speaker.

It was brought out during the addresses that so far as warship construction is concerned engineering starts when the civil engineers make borings and calculate the static and dynamic loads, for the building and launching ways, for the building and launching loads, and ends when the ship is finally stowed away in Davy Jones' locker.

It was also brought out that scrapping of fighting ships under international agreements, according to expressed opinions, should be carried out along conservative lines and without haste. Ship building it was contended was a slow process and while no disposition was evinced to approve of the United States floating around with a chip on its shoulder, yet the opinion prevailed that no actual lessening of naval strength should be contemplated.

CRAIG MAY BE A DRY CHIEF

Leading Democrat is Urged for Caswell's Place

Rev. O. W. Craig of Manchester, chairman of the labor committee of the house of representatives and of the Manchester delegation is being actively urged as a successor to Ralph E. Caswell of Dover, prohibition enforcement agent of the state. Mr. Craig was mentioned some time ago for appointment as deputy secretary of state under Enos K. Sawyer.

Mr. Caswell, named to the state office when Jonathan L. Lewis became federal dry agent, has been ill for some time.

Rev. Mr. Craig has previously announced that he hoped to devote any extra time he might have to a study of law.

ALL INSURANCE RECORDS BROKEN

The Year 1922 Showed Increasing Prosperity and Improving Business Conditions

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company broke all records in amount of business done in the year 1922, according to a report published today. The amount of new business placed on the books exceeded the phenomenal year of 1920 and was far in excess of what had been done in 1921. The officers of the company believed that this certainly reflects improved business conditions.

Particularly significant is the fact that industrial insurance which is taken largely by wage earners and their families, had such a great volume. The total amount of industrial insurance placed during the year was over $775,000,000. The investment situation business is also good. The income of the company increased by over thirty-eight and a half million dollars that of 1921, reaching the total of $340,668,301. The assets of the company increased $144,267,300 and at the end of the year stood at $1,259,350,325. The mortality increased somewhat as compared with the previous year and the total number of claims paid was 365,276. This was an average of one claim paid every 24 seconds of each business day of eight hours, or just about 1000 a day during the year, including Sundays and holidays. The amount paid to policyholders averaged $803.81 a minute of each business day.

Along with this great increase on the business side, the welfare work done by the company in behalf of the health of its industrial policyholders, kept pace. Metropolitan nurses made more than two million free visits to sick industrial policyholders, bringing the total number made since this service was inaugurated to over sixteen million. The company has distributed altogether two hundred and seventy-two million booklets and pamphlets giving hints on hygiene and prevention of disease and this, in co-operation with the general activities which are widening each year on the part of all official and semi-official health organizations has resulted in extending the life expectancy among industrial policyholders by eight and one-half years since 1911.

APPROVE NAVY APPROPRIATIONS

Washington, March 2.—An appropriation aggregating $20,950,000 for modernization of battleships, and reimbursement of contractors as a result of the naval scrapping program under the Washington arms conference treaty were approved today by the senate. The house previously had approved the items. Included in the naval deficiency bill is $6,500,000 for making changes in 13 battleships so as to increase the range of their guns.

BRINGS SUIT FOR AUTO ACCIDENT

Rochester, N. H., March 1.—Edward F. Cranshaw, administrator of the estate of George S. Dow of Salisbury, has entered a suit against Joseph J. Letourneau of Chestnut street to recover damages in the sum of $10,000 for alleged injuries sustained in an automobile accident at Salisbury October 15, 1921, which resulted in the death of Mr. Dow October 25. The case has been listed for trial at the present term of superior court now in session.

NO HARD COAL AT EAST ROCHESTER

East Rochester, N. H., March 1.—There has been no improvement in the fuel situation in this place this week. None of the dealers has any hard coal on hand. The supply of soft coal at the fire station and opera house became exhausted and as there was no prospect of securing any, Mayor Small appealed to the Cocheco Woolen Company officials and secured a load. Deep snow in the woods prevents wood from being drawn into town.

NEW HAMPSHIRE MAN PURCHASES A MOUNTAIN

Concord, N. H., March 1.—Steps toward the creation of a fact finding commission to make a study of the 48-hour question and to report to the 1925 legislature were taken in the house today, when Representative Alken of Franklin, republican, moved that Speaker Ahearn be requested to appoint a committee to work out a plan to be embodied in a resolution and to submit a report to the house within 30 days. The Alken motion was made a special order for Tuesday.

AM. LEGION AUXILIARY

A regular meeting of the Frank E. Boona Post, Unit No. 6, American Legion Auxiliary, occurred at Memorial hall, Thursday evening March 1. Eight of the nine officers were present and an excellent representation of floor members. The unit also had as guests the president, vice president and secretary of the newly organized Henry Wallingford Unit, No. 89 of Kittery, Department of Maine. Much routine work was disposed of and several important committees appointed. Included in these were a committee on permanent badges, flags and emblems, a committee to take charge of the work of inscribing and hanging the permanent charter which is now in the possession of the unit; a committee to confer with a committee from Frank E. Boona Post on matters of mutual interest; and a committee on permanent constitution and by-laws, thus far the unit having functioned under temporary regulations.

The unit voted to accept with thanks an invitation from the President to meet for a social affair at her home on the evening of Thursday, March 15.

RYE

Nearly 40 members of the Sunday school of the Christian church of Rye, enjoyed a sleigh ride Thursday evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Garland of West Rye. There were two sleigh loads, the drivers being Alfred Philbrick and Frank Rand. The evening was ideal for the ride and all enjoyed it. Mr. and Mrs. Garland are active in the Christian church, and owing to the bad condition of the roads have been unable to attend regularly this winter. They were called upon by the party to in this way give expression to the friendship and esteem felt for them. The visitors brought several tributes to Mr. and Mrs. Garland and the time was most pleasantly passed at their home. Refreshments of assorted cake, ice cream and cocoa were served and later in the evening all left for their homes, having had a delightful time.

with her in her work, go with her. Miss Coventry has been with the local Y. W. C. She leaves it upon a firm basis of organization which points to continued success. It is with real regret that her many friends bid her good bye and their affection and good wishes follow her.

DANGEROUS TO CROSS BRIDGE AT THIS TIME

Superintendent Stangle of the American Bridge Company in charge of the construction of the Memorial bridge, is one of the best natured men living, but he is gradually losing his patience with the people who insist upon taking chances of getting hurt. For the past week or more the iron workers have been at work on the top of the towers taking down the heavy temporary stagings and derricks, and during this time he has had his hands full keeping people from crossing the bridge and walking under the tower while the men are working. He has been exceptionally lenient with sight-seers, in fact the writer has never seen a big job of its kind where people were allowed to watch the work with such little hindrance as on the bridge. As long as they have not been in danger or interfering with the work the visitors were given free rein.

This work that is now being taken down is all heavy construction and a plank, even a bolt or a nut falling from that height, if it struck a person walking under the tower, would cause a serious, perhaps fatal injury. Steel beams that were being taken down yesterday would average a ton and a half in weight and it can be imagined what would happen if one of these should get loose. In spite of all this, self evident to those who would look, there are many who seek to cross the bridge during the working hours, and some looked grieved when they were ordered back.

WILL SPEAK ON TIMELY TOPIC

At the next meeting of the John Langdon club on Monday evening Hon. Raymond B. Stevens will speak on "Taxation and the Constitution." In view of the vote soon to be taken on a constitutional amendment, this subject is the most timely and important one now before the citizens of the state.
